

Acknowledgment

An acknowledgment is a formal admission made in person before a proper official by someone who has executed an instrument. The signer must personally appear before the Notary Public, the signer must be positively identified by the Notary Public and the signer must acknowledge having willingly signed the document. The signer is not required to sign in the presence of the Notary Public.

Oath/Affirmation

An oath or affirmation is a type of attestation (swearing) that a Notary Public administers as part of the jurat. This oath or affirmation binds the person to the actual oath or affirmation. The difference between the oath and affirmation is that the affirmation takes out the reference to God.

Sample Oath or Affirmation:

Do you (swear/affirm) under penalty of law that what you are about to say will be true (so help you God)?

Or

Do you (swear/affirm) under penalty of law that you have executed this (insert type of document executed)_____and that it is your free act and deed (so help you God)?

Jurat

A jurat is a notarial statement that certifies the signer's personal appearance, witnesses the signer signing the document, administers an oath, and positively identifies the signers.

Certification of a Document

The certification of a document is a statement on the document that the signer makes, attesting to the fact that the document is a true copy of the original. This certification should be used together with the jurat.

The Secretary of State strongly recommends that Notaries Public only use this certification if the signer makes the statement that the copies are true. The Notary Public should not make the statement about the authenticity of the document, as the Notary Public is not the issuer or custodian of the original record.

Remember: This certification statement does not replace a certified copy of public record documents such as a birth certificate or a passport. Refer people to the issuing agencies to obtain certified copies of public records.

Sample Certification Statement (Jurat):

I, (insert name of person appearing before the Notary), do swear that this is a true and exact copy of (insert type of document) and that the original remains in my possession.

Credible Witness

A credible witness is when the signer of an instrument does not have identification or is not personally known to the Notary Public; another person (called the credible witness) knows the signer and can swear under oath as to the identity of the signer.
